Heroes for Freedom 'A Wounded Warriors Project' celebrates 167% growth in Warriors and guest attendance at its 4th Annual Salute to Heroes Fishing Tournament

West Galveston Bay, Texas – The tournament, held on October 3, 2015, at the HarborWalk Yacht Club & Marina, was a huge success. The first Salute to the Heroes Fishing Tournament began with only 15 boats. This year's tournament brought over 250 anglers and Warriors to help raise funds through the Heroes for Freedom Foundation benefitting the Wounded Warrior Project.

Philip Jalufka, Founder, President and CEO of Legacy International Resort Properties states, "It was an honor to serve my country from years at West Point to different teams in the Special Ops Community. Now it is my greatest privilege to have our entire Legacy International team contributing to an amazing organization." As the Title Sponsor, Jalufka presented a check to John Angelina bringing total contributions from Legacy International to $14,825. "We are truly grateful to Legacy International and their ongoing support and generosity for the Heroes for Freedom Foundation," said Angelina.

Celebrity Suzi Hanks, co-host of The Dean and Rog Show, hosted the live entertainment by Bubba Bateman and the DJ Connection, with a special appearance by The Zack Willard Band. The day culminated with John Angelina, of Heroes for Freedom, in conjunction with the Wounded Warrior project, presenting the Awards for the Salute to Heroes Fishing Tournament to the winning teams. The 1st place in the Guided Warrior Team was captained by Nathan Gray with Karen Keesler (Sponsor), Kim Gates (Sponsor), Ulises Ossio (Warrior) and Chris Sanchez (Warrior).

From Wounded Warrior, Danny Williams, "My appreciation for Philip and Legacy International is tremendous. Philip is very down to earth and his generosity goes way beyond the distance you could imagine. Meeting a veteran that is running a successful and reputable business and giving back to his fellow wounded warriors is not something you see every day. We are taught to never forget where you come from, once a soldier always a soldier and to always have your brothers back.”

The tournament was hosted at HarborWalk Community, Yacht Club and Marina, one of Legacy’s Resort Master Planned Communities on West Galveston Bay bringing a new horizon for coastal waterfront living.
